Jesus, our Friend

John 15:15 From now on I call you not servants; for the servant knows not what his lord does: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you.

The related sermon that was mentioned today is titled „Jesus is God!“ from February 18th 2018. Check out our app or website, if you would like to listen to it again.

Below are some questions that could help us all reflect on today's sermon and to go deeper with God during our quiet time this week.

- Can I name one area of my life where I feel close to God? And one area where I feel far from God? Is there a connection between my pride/humility and how close I feel to God in this area of my life?
- Is mourning about my sinfulness part of my walk with God? If not, why not? How can I draw closer to God through my mourning?
- Would I say that I compare myself mainly with God's standards? Or with the standards of this society? What does that say about Faith and trust?
- What area of my life does God want me to surrender more to Him?
- How can I reflect who God is in my relationships within the church? In my family? In my workplace?
- Does God want me to change my approach to „correcting others“? If yes, how?
- What practical steps does God want me to take in response to today's message?
